Speakers

Jess McCluer, Vice President of Safety and Regulatory Affairs with the National Grain and Feed Association, is responsible for directing and managing the NGFA's wide-ranging operations programs for grain elevators, feed mills and grain processing plants. He also oversees the NGFA's activities regarding employee safety and industrial health, environmental issues, grain-handling facility design and equipment, grain inspection and weighing issues, grain and feed quality and agroterrorism related issues.

Paul Stevenson, Risk Management Sr. Consultant with Nationwide Agribusiness, serves as a Subject Matter Expert in the fields of Food/Feed Safety, Food Defense, Grain Operations, and Quality Management Systems. Prior to joining Nationwide Agribusiness in 2012, Mr. Stevenson served as Founder and President of the consulting company Graham International, L.L.C. Graham International, L.L.C. was focused on Food/Feed Safety and Quality Systems consulting and auditing for grain quality systems, food security, Identity Preservation supply chains (IP), grain traceability, and Feed Materials Assurance Scheme (FEMAS) certification assessments.

Don Wray, Eastern Regional Operations Manager at The Anderson's Inc., is responsible for annual budgets, safety programs and procedures, capital projects, acquisitions and compliance of all local, state and federal regulations for 19 grain facilities. He has been an active member in both GEAPS and NGFA where he currently serves on the Safety, Health and Environmental Quality Committee. Don has been featured in many articles in Feed and Grain magazine covering facility construction, safety and best practices.
